

Research & Citing Sources

Name: _____

Date: _____

Grade: Grade 5

Part A: Multiple Choice

Circle the best answer for each question.

1. A student writes: "Dolphins are smart animals that can learn tricks." She found this fact in a book by Dr. Maria Lopez. What should she add?

- A) Nothing, because the sentence is already in her own words
- B) A citation showing the fact came from Dr. Lopez's book
- C) Quotation marks around the entire sentence
- D) The word "maybe" because she is not the expert

2. Which is the correct way to introduce a direct quote in a report?

- A) Dolphins can learn many tricks and signals.
- B) According to Dr. Lopez, "Dolphins can learn over 60 different hand signals" (Lopez 2021).
- C) "Dolphins can learn over 60 different hand signals."
- D) Dr. Lopez thinks dolphins can learn signals, probably.

3. Read this bibliography entry: "Wilson, Amy. Ocean Life. Chicago: Lake Press, 2019." What does "Chicago: Lake Press" tell the reader?

- A) The topic of the book and the number of pages
- B) The city and the company that published the book
- C) The author's hometown and her favorite library
- D) The website address where the book can be found

4. A student paraphrased information from a website but did not include any citation. What should she do?

- A) Remove the information because it is now plagiarism
- B) Add a citation to the original website at the end of the sentence
- C) Put quotation marks around the paraphrased sentence instead
- D) Leave it because paraphrased ideas do not need citations

Part B: Fill in the Blank

Write the correct answer on each line.

1. Even when you paraphrase, you must still _____ the original source.
2. A bibliography entry for a website includes the URL and the date you _____ the page.
3. Introducing a quote with a phrase like "according to" helps _____ the source into your writing.
4. The author's last name usually appears _____ in a bibliography entry.

Part A: Multiple Choice

Circle the best answer for each question.

1. A student writes: "Dolphins are smart animals that can learn tricks." She found this fact in a book by Dr. Maria Lopez. What should she add?

- A) Nothing, because the sentence is already in her own words
- B) A citation showing the fact came from Dr. Lopez's book
- C) Quotation marks around the entire sentence
- D) The word "maybe" because she is not the expert

2. Which is the correct way to introduce a direct quote in a report?

- A) Dolphins can learn many tricks and signals.
- B) According to Dr. Lopez, "Dolphins can learn over 60 different hand signals" (Lopez 2021).
- C) "Dolphins can learn over 60 different hand signals."
- D) Dr. Lopez thinks dolphins can learn signals, probably.

3. Read this bibliography entry: "Wilson, Amy. Ocean Life. Chicago: Lake Press, 2019." What does "Chicago: Lake Press" tell the reader?

- A) The topic of the book and the number of pages
- B) The city and the company that published the book
- C) The author's hometown and her favorite library
- D) The website address where the book can be found

4. A student paraphrased information from a website but did not include any citation. What should she do?

- A) Remove the information because it is now plagiarism
- B) Add a citation to the original website at the end of the sentence
- C) Put quotation marks around the paraphrased sentence instead
- D) Leave it because paraphrased ideas do not need citations

Part B: Fill in the Blank

Write the correct answer on each line.

1. Even when you paraphrase, you must still cite the original source.
2. A bibliography entry for a website includes the URL and the date you accessed the page.
3. Introducing a quote with a phrase like "according to" helps integrate the source into your writing.
4. The author's last name usually appears first in a bibliography entry.